

Air Jet + Coupling

Besides the proven air-jets with brass covers that have been successfully offered for a long time, we extend the assortment of air-jets with a new model. New are also the quick-acting couplings in elbow and straight shape. Application of these components guarantees substantial acceleration and effectivity of air system assemblage. The quick-acting couplings can be used at high pressure installations. PVC hose used for this kind of assembly can be found in our catalogue (number 150650).
